

Welcome Message

Join us at the 2nd World Congress on Smart Materials & Structures (Materials Series 2027) on April 16–17, 2027 in Bangkok, Thailand, and virtually on April 18, 2027. Organized by Annualforums, LLC, the conference is centered on the theme “Emerging Breakthroughs in Smart Materials and Structures.” Connect with researchers, scientists, academicians, and industry professionals to share ideas, present research, and explore the latest innovations in smart materials and advanced structures. Don't miss the opportunity to network, collaborate, and showcase your research on a global platform. See you in Bangkok!

About the Event

Materials Series 2027 is a great opportunity to connect and collaborate with professionals in Materials Science & Engineering. The conference includes talks, workshops, poster sessions, and networking, where you can share ideas and learn about the latest developments in smart materials. It also offers a chance for organizations to showcase their products and services. We invite you to join us in Bangkok, Thailand, and be part of this global event.
