MATERIALS SERIES 2027

September 09-10, 2027

Location: DoubleTree by Hilton Amsterdam – NDSM Wharf

Welcome Message

Materials Series 2027 brings together distinguished professionals and researchers worldwide to engage in meaningful discussions, share cutting-edge research, and explore transformative developments in materials science and engineering. . The conference provides an exceptional opportunity to share research findings, build collaborations, and discuss transformative advancements in the field.

About the Event

Materials Series 2027– 2nd World Congress on Smart Materials & Structures is an international conference bringing together researchers, academicians, and industry professionals from around the world to discuss recent advancements in materials science and engineering under the theme "Emerging Breakthroughs in the Field of Smart Materials and Structures." The event provides a global platform for knowledge sharing, collaboration, and innovation.
